The image contains a well log form with various fields filled out. The form includes information about the well's location, geologic features, and well construction data. The form also has a section labeled "Map on Original" with a grid pattern and some additional handwritten notes. The form is part of a larger document or report, as indicated by the "GP 10 937-142" at the bottom right.